Chairman's Message

Whenever men gather together in democratic groups, whether they be large or small, they invariably elect a few of their number to organize and direct their particular activities.

These elected few have no easy task, for it is their job to interpret the wishes of the whole group and formulate those wishes into an administrative policy and an operating programme which is equitable and fair. As individuals vary so much in their wants and in their likes and dislikes, this is easier said than done.

On the other hand, these elected administrators have been honoured by the confidence which their fellows have placed in them by appointing them to office.

We newly elected members of your Club Committee are very conscious of both the honour you have bestowed on us and also our responsibility to you as members.

On behalf of my fellow Committeemen, and on my own behalf, I assure you that we will do everything in our power to justify the confidence you have placed in us.

Ours is a Club with a fine tradition dating back over a hundred years. It is also one which, it is safe to say, is known and respected all over the world. Our policy for the ensuing year, therefore, though it must remain flexible in smaller details, is clear and inflexible in its broader conception. That is, that we must maintain the traditions which have made our Club an institution of which we can all feel justly proud.

Off on a round-the-world, specially scheduled, racing tour last month went Club member Clyde Waterman. The tour was planned by a travel agency to coincide as much as possible with important meetings in several countries.

First stop will be Singapore, where Clyde will arrive in time to see the Governor's Cup. From there on to England for the famous Derby, and then up to Ireland for various classics in that country. Next stop will be Longchamps to take in the renowned Grand Prix, and then to the U.S.A. for a whole host of visits to the more important tracks.

Although the tour is scheduled for nine weeks, Clyde figures that by the time it is over he will need a holiday, so he intends to stay on somewhat longer.

With Clyde on the tour will go fellow South Australians Stan Wheatley, well-known bookmaker in that State, and Don McKay, S.A.J.C. committeeman.

Clyde, who has been an owner for many years, hopes to purchase some stock in France.

This is by no means Clyde's first trip. In fact, he makes a regular tour every two years and, during previous trips, has purchased stock for his stable.

Clyde recalls that the last time he was away he was given Louis B. Mayer's special box at the track in Los Angeles. He rated the box and the clubroom at the track as fabulous.

We'll look forward to hearing more of Clyde's trip on his return.

DES. MERRETT TAKES OVER HOTEL

While it is probably fairly widely known by now, it is possible that the knowledge has not reached all quarters that Des Merrett has recently taken over the Hurstville Hotel. Knowing his ability in this line of business, there is little doubt that Hurstville Hotel will become one of "The" Pubs before long.

PORTRAIT OF CHAIRMAN

Presently hanging in the Club are portraits of two of Tattersall's previous Chairmen. These are James Barnes and W. W. Hill. Late in May the Committee approved the commissioning of a portrait of our present popular Chairman, John Hickey. This is a very well-deserved mark of appreciation of Mr. Hickey's long and distinguished service on behalf of the Club. Elected a member on the 23rd April, 1928, he became a Committeeman in May, 1937. He was then elected Treasurer in May, 1946, and has been Chairman of the Club since June, 1949. At the time of going to press the artist had not been decided upon, but we will give members more details in this column in subsequent issues.

NEW MEMBERS CARRY ON FAMILY TRADITION

Two new members of the Club elected in May are carrying on the membership tradition of their families. They are Adrian James Ingham Brown and Kenneth Alexander Forbes Williams.

Ken Williams, who is a trainee executive with Grace Bros.' department store, is the son of well-known bookmaking member, K. F. Williams, who, incidentally, has just completed his thirty-second year of membership. Ken Williams is also the grandson of Mr. Alec Williams, who in his lifetime was a long-standing bookmaking member of the Club.

That makes young Ken the third generation of the Williams family to be admitted to membership. It also makes Ken senior a very proud and happy man, for he has many a recollection of his pleasant association with "Tatts," and is glad to know that his son can look forward to similar ones.

Adrian Brown, who is Sales Manager of A. C. Ingham Pty. Ltd., is the grandson of a former Chairman of the Club, Mr. A. C. Ingham, who presided in 1929, and who has been a member since 1923. He is also the son of well-known member, Jim Brown, who has been in the Club ranks for over 25 years. So Adrian makes our second third-generation member for this month, and Jim our second proud father.

To both our "younger generation" members we offer a hearty welcome and good wishes for a happy stay in Club ranks.

HAT TRICK FOR MACKIE FAMILY

1959 has been a bumper year for the Mackie family, well known in Newcastle racing circles, and also in Tattersall's Club of that city.

First off, D. Mackie, head of the family, topped the poll in the Committee ballot for the Newcastle Jockey Club. Not a bad effort in itself.

But then Bill Mackie followed in his father's footsteps and topped the poll in the Committee ballot for the Newcastle Tattersall's Club.

Still not content, another of the Mackie boys, Ted (wait for it, wait for it), yes, topped the poll in the ballot for Vice-presidents for the Newcastle District Rugby Football League.

In our book that's a real reflection on the popularity of a fine family in their own district, one for which they have done much.

To the Mackies: All your friends in Tattersall's, Sydney, congratulate you heartily on your very fine effort, and hope you go on "topping the poll" in all your ventures, whether they be social, business or personal.

DO YOU USE YOUR CLUB FACILITIES?

During 1958 the following meals were served:

25,075 lunches.

30,501 dinners.

29,189 second floor buffet meals.

8,643 Athletic Department buffet meals.

Obviously these members have enjoyed the Club's cuisine and the Club's service. Like the fifty million Frenchmen, they can't all be wrong. So why don't you, too, make more frequent use of the Club's dining facilities? It is generally conceded that they are second to none in the city. The head waiter will be more than pleased to cater for your every wish, so don't forget. Dining room, fourth floor; buffet meals, second floor; and buffet meals also by the swimming pool, third floor.

THIS IS YOUR MAGAZINE

Tattersall's Club Magazine is YOUR magazine.

It is not intended to be a collection of information from a half dozen or so members only.

Its purpose is to pass on news about as many Club members and Club events as possible.

To do this it needs YOUR contribution; the things you hear that interest you will interest other members as well, and it will take you less time than it takes to smoke a cigarette to jot down the facts and either leave them with the Club Secretary or pop them into Box 1 on the first floor.

Yes, facts are all we need. You don't have to be a Shakespeare to contribute. It's your Editor's job to dress up the essential information into readable form, unless, of course, you WANT to write it out properly.

But, finished job or bare essentials, we need contributions, so:

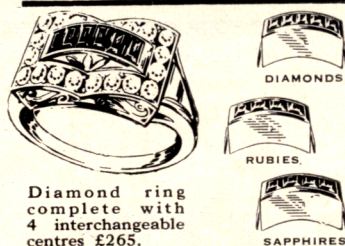

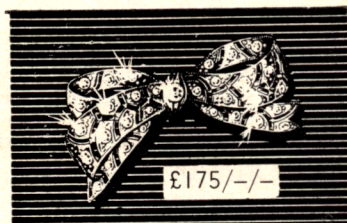

CAN WE LOOK FORWARD TO YOUR HELP?

A new publication schedule has been prepared. From now on T.C.M. will be out on the 7th OF EACH MONTH, and contributions in the hands of the Editor by the LAST DAY OF THE PREVIOUS MONTH will meet the copy deadline. So, as we said:

CAN WE LOOK FORWARD TO YOUR HELP?

CLUB MEMBER HITS THE JACKPOT

Popular bookmaking member, Jack Allen, really hit the jackpot last month, and we don't mean on the poker machines, either. No, Jack collected £31,000 in Jackpot Lottery No. 55, and where do you suppose he bought the ticket? That's right, through the Club's lottery ticket service.

Jack didn't have the ticket all on his own, but at least he kept it in the family; his wife Nell shared half the prize.

When asked, during a newspaper interview, what he was going to do with the money, Jack said: "I'll give it to the punters, I suppose." Did we hear a hollow laugh from the punting members?

But, punters or not, Jack, all members congratulate you and your wife heartily on your good fortune.

Incidentally, this is the second major prize to come to the Club. Not long ago, Mr. Dowling, of the N.S.W. Bookstall, and Director of the Hotel Metropole, collected £12,000 from the State Lottery. He, too, bought his ticket at the Club, so there's the tip. If you feel like some easy money, use the Club's ticket service.

Mr. & Mrs. COWIE OFF TO JAPAN

Keith Cowie and Mrs. Cowie left on the 20th May for Japan and a well-earned rest. The recent loss of their son Brian was a tragic blow, and it is to be hoped that the holiday will at least help to soften the impact. Bon voyage, Keith, and we hope to have you among us again in the not too distant future.

OLD FRIENDS

You know how it is at cocktail parties. You're introduced to so many people you have a great difficulty in remembering names, and which face goes with which name, anyway. Well, at the Club's party for the Lions last month there was one member present who had no trouble at all. That was David Emanuel. You see, he'd toured the British Isles with the last Australian Wallaby team that went away, and knew all the visitors by their first names. There was a general reunion all round, with the visitors overjoyed at seeing Dave again, and vice versa. And, as Dave's friendly association was typical of that of the rest of the Aussies, as we learned later, it was good to see an example of how such bitter rivals on the field can be such firm friends off it.

Accommodation

When you stay in town, stay at your Club. Make your bedroom reservations by telephone, telegram or letter . . .

P.S.—Always let us know the duration of your stay, if possible, because you may be keeping another member from booking.

ALL IN THE NAME

Along with racing men everywhere, Committeeman George Chiene believes that a horse's name should arise naturally from those of its sire and dam. But not for George the first obvious combination that comes to mind; he's prepared to do a lot of research to make it really appropriate.

So when Tommy Smith asked him to name a colt from Star Kingdom out of Sweet Adeline last month, George did his usual delving, even to the extent of consulting Webster's for the ancient meaning of the name Adeline. Here he struck pay dirt, for he found that the Greek word from which the name Adeline was derived means, or meant, noble.

Q.E.D. The colt's name: Noble Star.

This isn't George's first assay into horse naming. In fact, he was responsible for naming the famous Delta for Adolph Basser.

Applying his usual technique, George found that the name of the dam in question was the same as that of the town in Palestine, Gaza. Well, from there it wasn't a very long hop to the Delta of the Nile, and so Delta became Delta.

In the same vein, George was chatting with a fellow Club member not long since about the mighty Phar Lap. He said to George that it was a pity the famous stayer had a name so meaningless and inappropriate. George took great pleasure in pointing out that Phar Lap means "Lightning" in Singalese. Inappropriate? Well!

C. EMANUEL "BACK ON DECK"

Cedric Emanuel's many friends in the Club will be pleased to know that he is now on the mend.

Cedric, well-known artist, racehorse owner and, before his illness, member of no mean ability of Tattersall's Swimming Club, suffered a nervous complaint some months ago. It was brought on by overwork. While not serious, it was sufficiently severe to have kept him away from his usual haunts for some months.

The general report is that, while not quite out of the wood yet, Cedric is improving steadily. This was confirmed by the fact that he was sighted lurching at the pool early this month. He and son David were entertaining some of the visiting Lions there.

Cedric plans to spend a month away in the country to give his recuperation a finishing touch, so all wish him a speedy recovery, and hope to see him back in the Club on his old regular basis in the near future.

"HOME" FOR VISIT

Amongst the departures for overseas last month was Jim Henderson, who left for England. Jim, by now a dyed-in-the-wool Aussie, was born in England, and felt the need for a short return home. All members wish him a happy trip and a safe return.

P. McGRATH ON THE MEND

It's corny, certainly, but the old saying, "You can't keep a good man down," never applied more appropriately than to Peter McGrath. Not so long ago Peter was far from well, but it is a tonic to see him resuming Club life again (gradually, of course).

OSCAR BECK IN CAR ACCIDENT

Oscar Beck, Managing Director of well-known printers, Patterson and Beck Pty. Ltd., met with an unfortunate accident last month.

He was crossing the road not far from his Kangaroo Point home when he was knocked down by a car. He suffered a broken collar bone, damage to his ribs, and other injuries.

His injuries were of a serious nature, but he preferred to spend his time at home rather than go to hospital. He is presently spending his convalescence there under the watchful eye, and in the very capable hands, of his charming wife, Eleanor.

Knowing Oscar's indomitable spirit, his robust and optimistic philosophy, and Eleanor's nursing capabilities, we're sure it won't be long before he's "back on deck" again.

OLD ACQUAINTANCE-NEW ACQUAINTANCE

Across the page we've reported the cocktail party which the Club gave to the Lions.

Well, of those present at the function, there must have been at least two who felt a sentimental twinge as they shook hands for the first time; one, Tattersall's committeeman Alf Collins, and the other, the visiting team's spectacular five-eighth, Beverley Risman, of whom more has been written and spoken than of any other team member, and who, by his modesty, excellent play and background, has really captured the imagination of the Australian sports-conscious public.

It happened this way:

As everyone knows by this time, Beverley is the son of the famous and fabulous Rugby League captain, Gus Risman, who first came to Australia with the British team in 1932. At that time he and Alf Collins met, and Gus was Alf's guest at the Club on many a happy occasion.

During this and a subsequent visit when Gus captained the British team, the two became firm friends. So much so, in fact, that Alf's daughter stayed with the Rismans during a visit to British Isles.

When Gus knew that son Bev. was coming to Australia, he got in touch with Alf. He wrote:

"My main reason for writing, Alf, is to ask you if you would be kind enough to make yourself known to Bev., and perhaps invite him and a few of his team mates to the Tattersall's Club, where I

found friend,
Bev. Risman.*

was privileged to spend so many happy moments."

Well, Gus could have saved himself a postage stamp, for Alf had already arranged to do just that even before he'd had the letter.

Alf's praise of young Bev. is high indeed. He says that Bev. is just as grand a "bloke" as Gus. And, coming from Alf, who can't speak highly enough of Gus, that's praise indeed.

On the other hand, Bev., who was himself overjoyed at meeting Alf, said that his father often speaks of Alf, and reminisces about the times they had together over here.

So if Alf had a lump in his throat when he shook the hand which must have reminded him of another hand shaken in parting many years ago, who can blame him? The past repeating itself for us is always nostalgic.

The second floor Committee room was filled with mingling Scotch, Welsh, Irish, English and Australian accents when Tattersall's Club gave a cocktail party reception to the famous British Lions Rugby Union team, on Tuesday, the 26th May last. It was truly a "British" team, with the four countries more or less evenly represented.

The room was most appropriate to the occasion, for prominently displayed on the bar was a lion's skin with the head very much in evidence.

As the squad arrived and mixed with Club Committeemen and members, they looked every inch what they were: a bunch of fine, clean-cut sportsmen, who, while tough and vigorous on the field, established themselves as friendly, courteous, modest, and even shy, off it. Whatever these lads do in the sports arena, they will certainly make many friends for themselves and their home countries in their social contacts.

Lions Manager accepts "Wallaby" from Acting Club Chairman Frank Carberry.

Club welcomes

Mr. Carberry, Acting Chairman, gave a brief but very sincere welcoming address to the squad, and conferred honorary membership of the Club on them during their stay in Australia. There was general laughter from both Britishers and Australians when he presented Mr. Wilson, team manager, with a toy wallaby as a souvenir of their visit.

In reply, Mr. Wilson thanked the Club most sincerely on behalf of the team for both the welcoming gesture and the honorary memberships. He said he felt sure that many members of the team would make use of the Club facilities during the brief time at their disposal in Sydney.

Although the conversation naturally enough centred around football, the whole team showed a keen interest in the Club, of which they had all heard before their arrival. They were most interested in learning of the Club facilities, and agreed that they compared more than favourably with those in other countries, particularly, of course, in regard to the swimming pool.

They expressed the wish to see the pool, and the whole squad was taken up to the third floor to inspect it and the athletic department. Their comments were most complimentary.

All squad members were unanimous in stating that they were looking forward to some very tough competition in Australia, and were by no means taking any of their games lightly.

Two "old-time" Club members enjoyed the evening immensely. They were W. W.

(Bill) Hill, past Chairman and life member, and W. A. O'Carroll, prominent journalist. These two Rugby Union fans of many decades' standing, both authorities on the game, were reminded by the Lions' visit of the grand teams which had come to our shores in the past. The visitors, who eagerly joined in the conversation with these two, heard names which are now legends to them, and were pleased indeed to hear so much of the game's history from two such knowledgeable men.

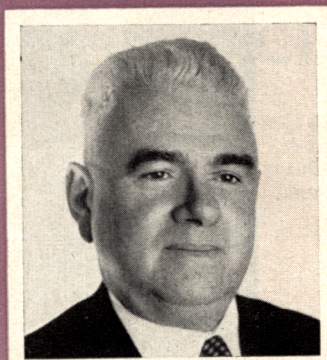

Perhaps the most inappropriately named member of the team was M. English. He spoke to all and sundry with an Irish brogue you could cut with a knife.

As can well be imagined, the evening was an outstanding success. It was an opportunity for the Britishers to get a glimpse of Australian club life, and for the Club to make a well-deserved gesture to a fine bunch of sportsmen.

Newly Elected Committee

These are the men you have elected to your Committee. They represent commerce, the professions, and sport, and are all highly respected in their chosen callings. They have unselfishly offered their time and their skills in the service of the Club, and have been elected by democratic poll. It is therefore up to all members to give them the support and loyalty they deserve.

John Hickey.—A leading solicitor and highly respected member of his profession, John Hickey is legal adviser to the Sydney Turf Club. Thirty-one years a member of our Club, he has been a Committeeman for 22 of these, and Chairman since 1949. In this long and productive association he has done much to foster all the sports sponsored by the Club. Under his guidance the Club has made a great deal of progress in the post-war years, and has enhanced its reputation in the community.

George Chiene.—A veteran Club member with a fund of racing knowledge, George Chiene is considered an authority of some note on racing and the history of the turf. A fine sportsman in his day, he is remembered most for his prowess on the football field. Apart from the Chairman, George Chiene has the longest Committee service.

Alf Collins.—A well-known solicitor-member of the legal profession, Alf Collins is a keen racing man with a fine record. He has seen racing all over the world, and is an accepted authority on the rules of the turf. Until recently he raced his own horses. During his 18 years on the Committee he has worked hard for the Club, and has done much to inspire younger members.

Geoff Eastment.—Newest member of your Committee, Geoff Eastment is just starting his first year of office. He is a partner in Sydney's best-known building and contracting firm, F. T. Eastment and Sons. He is a Scots old boy, and a keen golfer, being a member of Pymble and Bonnie Doon Clubs. An enthusiastic cricketer, he used to play grade for Paddington, but now confines his games to social fixtures for Scots Old Boys.

Ken Fidden.—A topline executive in the commercial world, Ken Fidden represents in Australia the international company, Radio Corporation of America. He is an enthusiastic Rugby Union fan and supporter, but finds his main relaxation and pleasure in the Club. He is an eager Committee worker, and an excellent ambassador for the Club.

Frank Carberry.—One of Sydney's best-known oral surgeons, Frank Carberry is a recognised leader in his field. A keen sportsman in his younger days, he represented Australia as a swimmer in the Olympic Games, and has won many Australian swimming titles.

Claude Moore.—This Committeeman's name has a fine tradition of racing behind it; Moorefield racecourse was named after his father, who founded it. A veteran Committeeman of some 14 years' standing, Claude Moore has a sympathetic approach to any problem, and is an asset to your governing body.

Bill Sellen.—A master printer since well before the war, Bill Sellen is one of the best-known personalities in the city's commercial circles. In his younger days he had an impressive record as a swimmer and footballer, and is now a racing enthusiast. He has always had a keen sense of responsibility to the Club, and is an ardent and tireless worker for the Committee.

Les Tidmarsh.—One of three brothers, all bookmaking members of the Club, Les Tidmarsh is a name synonymous with racing and the turf. He is one of the "younger" Committee members, who now enters his second year of office. However, what he lacks in "service" he makes up in enthusiasm and effort.

Ernie Vandenberg.—One of the turf's best-known bookmakers, Ernie Vandenberg was one of the youngest fielders in the game, taking over at his father's death while still in his 'teens. Naturally enough, he is an authority on racing, and is a sound Committee member, always with the Club's best interests at heart.

Half Century

Club membership celebrated by Bert Bowser

In these days of coronary occlusions, stomach ulcers, and other symptomatic ailments of modern living, even to REACH the age of fifty is something of an achievement. But when you can boast of belonging to a club for that length of time you become a member of a small and very select band.

George Bertram Bowser has just been admitted to it by completing his fiftieth year with Tattersall's Club.

Bert was born in Victoria, but early in life went to New Zealand, where he spent his boyhood. Even during these tender years he demonstrated the quiet courage that was to characterise him in later life.

At that time, and when only nine years old himself, he rescued from a flood-swollen river another small boy, seriously jeopardising his own life in the process. Surely a remarkable display of cool-headedness and calculated daring in one so young as to be only a few short years out of kindergarten.

From New Zealand Bert next turned up in Newcastle, where he became known as an above-average runner. It was here that he won a number of professional handicaps during the famous "gaslight" days of the late 1890's.

His best-known performance in running was carried out in Sydney, however, when he ran third in the Botany Handicap. On that occasion he was beaten by A. Jones, first, and F. Griffiths, second. Both these men were outstanding runners of their day, as many of the older members will recall.

On one occasion during his heyday, Bert started favourite for the famous Stawell Gift professional event, but unfortunately did not run a place.

Early in his career on the Turf, Bert joined forces with the late John Canning in a bookmaking partnership. Soon afterwards, however, he branched out on his own to become a leader in the ring at Randwick. He returned to a partnership again when he became associated with H. R. (Lal) Bowden at a later date.

In carrying out his book-making activities at that time, and in frequenting the Club, both then and since, Bert has travelled many a mile between Sydney and Newcastle.

Among Bert's ventures into commerce was an interest in a timber business. Again the measure of his loyalty to those with whom he was associated and who worked for him can be gauged by the fact that, when he sold this business, part of the deal was that all the staff were to be kept on in the same capacities and at the same salaries. Truly a typical gesture of a man who has earned and deserved the respect and affection with which he has been showered by those who have known him.

Very hearty congratulations on your achievement of fifty years' membership from all your Sydney friends, Bert. They all wish you good health and many, many more years of enjoyable and productive membership, during which they can, as always, take pleasure in your company.

CLUB SETTLING

All Members (Bookmaking and Ordinary) are notified that they must settle on the day following every mid-week Metropolitan Race Meeting.

Bowling News

The Annual General Meeting of the Bowling Section will be held on the fourth floor at 3 p.m. on Monday, June 22. The President and Committee would like to see a good roll-up, as an appreciation to them by the members for their efforts in making 1958-59 such a successful year.

The meeting will be followed by sandwiches and drinks, which will be supplied by the Bowling Club out of their surplus funds.

The Club's finances are in a very healthy position, with a credit balance of over £300, plus stock in hand, £82/8/2. This is made up of ties and hatbands, etc.

The members will be sorry to lose Treasurer Jack Keogh, who has resigned owing to pressure of business, but will still be an active member of the Bowling Section.

The Club owes a debt of gratitude to Jack for his efforts over the years he has been Treasurer.

The Club's Championship has been reduced to the last eight, and the class bowlers have singled themselves out.

At this stage the event has a very open appearance, but no doubt the winner will be known by the time this is in your hands.

There has been some particularly good bowls played during the elimination rounds.

Jack Pick's game to beat John Schofield by 31 to 30 was one. Jack was beaten next round by Cedric Emanuel by 31 to 27. Allan Turner had easy matches with a good draw until he met Keith Britter, whom he beat 31 to 25. Swannie Schwarz beat Col. Rose (31 to 17), and then Eric Westhoff (31 to 15) to reach the last eight.

A particularly good game by Jack Eaton to beat Clyde Cook 31 to 30.

Cec. Adair beat Jack Shaffran 31 to 28, to come from behind, when, at 28 all, Shaffran was lying game, but Cec. played a beauty to get the shot with his last bowl and finish the game at the next end.

Dick Relton got to the last eight by beating A. Buckle by 31 to 22.

The Club Pairs Championship is well under way.

In the preliminary rounds Ken Ranger and Jack Pick got up in the last end to win by 21 to 20. They beat Col. Rose and Stan Chatterton, who led them by four shots with three ends to go.

Vic. Richards and Dick Relton beat J. Shaffran and J. Keogh by 24 to 17.

Harold Hill had to fight all the way to beat Ron Spencer by 31 to 22.

The trophy triples of a Thursday have been getting a regular roll-up of 24 to 30 players. Seeing that they are run in conjunction with the Championships, it shows the interest is still very keen in the Bowling Section.

Larry Dwyer has been absent for the last few weeks owing to illness. All members wish him a speedy recovery and a quick return to our Thursday bowls.

Swimming Report

A man of many parts is Jim Comans, winner of the last Point Score in the Pool. Decorated R.A.A.F. flier, first grade University Rugby League forward, leading surf official, solicitor, and good fellow.

The boys can add a few more titles, but one thing is certain, and that is that no one has gleaned more fun and sport out of the Swimming Club and, incidentally, handed out more fun than Jim V. Comans.

His win was a very popular one, and followed a lean period, during which he seemed to be in line for an increase in handicap.

Bill Mackenzie, ex Empire Games Australian representative, appeared to have a stranglehold on the trophy, but just failed to get into the deciding final, and ended up two points behind Comans.

As we noted in the last issue of the magazine, the battle for Bill Kirwan's "Native Son" trophy for all points scored during the season is a really baffling one, with chances fluctuating after every race.

Halfway through May, Sid Sernack looked home and dried with only six events to complete the season, when he ran up a lead of eight and a half points, only to see Harold Herman come good in the second half of the month and reduce the lead to one and a half.

Geoff. Shaw, leader a month ago, missed a few races, and has been relegated to tenth place, whilst Keith Longworth is hanging grimly to third place, with Stu. Murray fourth, and that great trier, Les Bear, fifth.

There are only four handicaps to complete the season, and any one of half a dozen could take out Bill Kirwan's trophy.

Everybody still wants to draw Ralph Corrick in the Bruce Relays, and it's strange that Jim Comans drew him in both events last month. The combination won the first, but struck a snag in Gordon Boulton and Harold Herman in the other, and could only manage a clipped finger nail second, the winners breaking their handicaps by a mere two and a half seconds.

Our remarks in the last issue about Jack Shaffran still hold good, as in three starts in May he won three heats. Bowls on the final days have kept him away, or he would be much higher than 18th on the season's point score table.

They tell us that Corrick is all out for the season's final monthly point score. What's the betting he loses a second in his first individual race?

Welcome to Bruce Cameron on turning out for the races! A close third was his first result, but he'll improve.

Cross on the wall this month! For the first time we record that the handicapper's red pencil was not used to lop a second from anybody's handicap.

Best winning times were 21.3 and 21.4 by Keith Longworth, and 21.6 and 21.8 by Leigh Bowes.

The 1958/59 season is rapidly drawing to a close, and July 2 will mark the last of the handicap events, but in the following week the Club Championship, to which the boys have been eagerly looking forward, takes place.

Heats of this event over 40 yards will be held on Tuesday, July 7, and the final on Thursday, July 9.

The results of the clash between many-times Club champion, Olympian Bill Kendall, and newcomer Rugby Union international David Emanuel, has been hotly discussed all the season by Club members, and they'll all be on deck to see the thriller.

Emanuel has had slightly the faster times during the season, but it's anybody's guess as to whether his youth and dash will prevail over the big race temperament, heady racing, and finishing ability of Kendall.

Not that either will be far ahead of Carl Phillips, Malcolm Fuller, Graeme Cole, Keith Longworth, Leigh Bowes, Dave Cathels, Merv. Finlay, Dick Dowling, Bob Harris, and Ross Stanford, any of whom could figure in the final.

Don't forget the dates, July 7 and 9!

Handball News

On Tuesday night, April 21, the Handball Club held their Annual Dinner and Prize Presentation Night, and a great time was had by one and all. About 50 members attended, and the Club was very pleased indeed to extend a warm welcome to Les Tidmarsh, Committeeman of Tattersall's Club, and to Jack Dexter, Secretary of the Tattersall's Club Swimming Club. Also we were very happy to see our Club Chairman, John Hickey, drop in on us for a few moments and have a drink. John could not stay for the evening, for which we were regretful. However, it was nice of him to remember us and call in for a short while.

Winners of the various competitions who received very handsome prizes were:

Champion of Tattersall's Club: E. E. Davis. Runner-up: Bruce Partridge.

"B" Grade Champion: Malcolm Fuller. Runner-up: Bill Kirwan.

"C" Grade Champion: Leigh Bowes. Runner-up: Collin Bowes.

"Winooka" Trophy: First, J. O. Dexter; second, Syd. Kay; third, Bob Lipman; fourth, Ron Spencer.

"Segenhoe" Trophy: First, E. E. Davis; second, Ralph Davies.

Tattersall's Club Centenary Trophy: First, Bruce Partridge; second, George McGilvray; third, Tom Abernethy; fourth, Ralph Davies.

"The Most Improved Player" Trophy: Ralph Davies.

The presentations were made by Les Tidmarsh, Jack Dexter, Sam Block, Peter Lindsay, Zade Lazarus, and Arthur McCamley. All expressed themselves very suitably, especially Les Tidmarsh, who, as a Committeeman of Tattersall's Club, wished the handballers every success, and he said that the thanks of the Committee were due to the various Sub-committees (Swimmers, Bowlers, Billiards and Snooker, Handball, etc.), whose organisation helped to make enjoyment and companionship within the Club and generally made Club life worthwhile.

The evening's enjoyment commenced with cocktails and savouries. When everyone appeared to be in the right spirit, the staff brought in the festive board. This was in the buffet style, and I must say that the staff of our Club did a mighty job. Our thanks must go out to Lyall Binns (Secretary), Miss Gardiner (in the office), Mr. Cornwell (House Manager), and Ernie, our steward, who directed operations at the table and bar. The arrival of the chef from the kitchen was greeted very enthusiastically, and all hands, with appetites suitably whetted (no, not wetted—or perhaps both), fell to and enjoyed the good things provided. With everybody feeling very happy, our Chairman called for volunteers for an amateur turn and, lo and behold! up pops Tom Abernethy, and I must say that he was the life of the party. Tom's singing was a revelation, and I feel that I must extend to him the thanks of all those present for a very fine effort.

Amongst the many impromptu speeches, nothing was better than that by Jim Comans. Jim is a solicitor "by trade," and, of course, well versed in the ways of the "gift of the gab." His very concise and witty speech was a beauty.

It would be difficult for me to report everything that happened that night, but I do know I went home in a very mellow mood, and I am sure that every other member did, also.

Apropos to the dinner, I must take this opportunity of thanking all those very generous members of our Club who donate prizes for the various competitions:—

"A" Grade Championship: George Goldie.

"B" Grade Championship: Les Tidmarsh.

"C" Grade Championship: Ernie Vandenberg.

The "Winooka" Trophy: (The Estate of the late Joe Matthew, Ted Forest and Steven Blau, executors).

The "Segenhoe" Trophy: Mr. Lionel Israel.

The "Amounis" Trophy: Mr. Ernie Vandenberg.

Tattersall's Club Centenary Trophies: The Committee of Tattersall's Club.

Other trophies and prizes by Eddie Danes, Cliff Sproule, and Arthur McCamley.

Many thanks to all of these people, and we hope that they will continue to support our Handball Club.

A special announcement of a new trophy donor—Mr. Adolph Basser. This will be called the "Delta" Trophy, and Adolph has promised that he will continue the donation annually. Thank you, Adolph, for a lovely gesture.

Whilst all of this has been taking place, the handball competitions are being played, and many games have been finalised. I am not going to report any of them this month, as I want to give you full details next month.

I would like to tell you about Malcolm Fuller. Besides being "B" Grade Champion of Tattersall's Club, Malcolm is now a Commonwealth Clay Pigeon Champion, having won the trophy recently. Also, Malcolm won the Queensland State title for Clay Pigeons. I am not too well versed in the world of pigeon shooting, but I do know that a shooter has to be good to win any event, and to win a Commonwealth and a State title is a very remarkable achievement. We all wish you the very best, Malcolm.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN ENGLISH DERBY

An unprecedented amount of interest was shown around Sydney this year in the famous English Derby.

Undoubtedly much of this was brought about by the fact that there were three Australian jockeys riding in the event, and the fact that George Moore's success overseas has captured the imagination of the Australian racing public.

The three Australian jockeys were George Moore, "Scobie" Breasley, and Eddie Cracknell.

Moore rode Princillon, one-time favourite for the race, Breasley rode Saint Crespin, and Cracknell's mount was Casque.

Moore had a very eventful meeting.

He fell very heavily from Chinchilla when his saddle slipped in the Mynne Stakes at Epsom on the day before the Derby. During a trial gallop, his Derby mount, Princillon, shied badly at a path which crossed the track. Then, during the actual Derby, in Moore's own words, Princillon "leapt eight feet into the air" at the same path at which he'd shied the day before.

Moore missed a place on his mount, "Scobie" Breasley on Saint Crespin was just beaten into third place, and Eddie Cracknell finished a long last on Casque.

Princillon was the race-eve favourite, but was replaced in favouritism, when betting opened, by Shantung. This was due to the weight of money which went on to the latter, and to the fact that no one knew just how badly Moore had been affected by his fall from Chinchilla.

This year's Derby was the richest on record, being worth £36,070 to the winner. W. H. Carr was the winning jockey, who won on Parthia, starting at 10/1.

This was Carr's thirteenth attempt at winning the Derby, and he was elated at his success.

Fielder and Club member Arthur Browning took a real punt on the race when he put "English Derby prices" on the board at Warwick Farm.

For obvious reasons, he had no chance of really making a book, although he had bets on every horse in the race except one—strangely enough, Shantung, which, by virtue of big-money plunges at the last minute, replaced Princillon as favourite for the race.

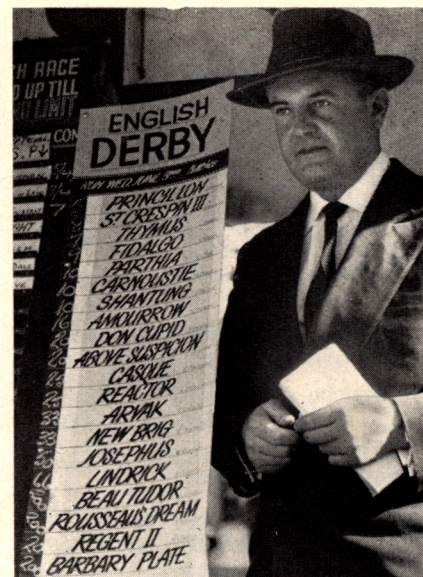

Arthur Browning really showed his gambling spirit, for he brought the price down only one point, from 6/1, on Princillon during the betting, although 50 per cent. of the money was on this horse.

Said Browning to a newspaper reporter: "It's straight gambling for me. I just had to take a chance and cross my fingers. I'd like to see an Australian jockey win it. But, from a financial point of view, that's the last thing I want."

He wrote only six bets about the winner, so his gamble came off.

As far as winning jockey Harry Carr was concerned, the race was something of a family affair, for his son-in-law, J. Mercer, was riding Fidalgo, the horse that ran into second place.

The race was described by many who saw it as the roughest Derby for years, and there was an angry demand for an inquiry into incidents which happened on the Hill. Here Shantung was seriously impeded and, according to his jockey, F. Palmer, the knocking about cost him the race.

Arthur Browning, prominent fielder, displays the odds for the Derby.

Others horses were involved, including Carnoustie and Dan Cupid.

The time for the race was 2 min. 36 sec.

The winning owner was Sir Humphrey de Trafford, and trainer was Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort. It was their first victory in a Derby.

Captain Boyd-Rochfort is principal trainer to Her Majesty the Queen. He has been training horses for over half a century and, though he has won many English classics, he has never chalked up the Derby. He was highly elated at his success.

The Queen's colt, Above Suspicion, which was ridden by Douglas Smith, finished well up behind the place-getters.

An interesting sidelight for those who listened to the English commentator call the race on the radio is that we, perhaps, don't appreciate the skill and quick thinking of our Australian race callers. We rather take their rapid-fire commentary for granted until we hear what is accepted as quite adequate radio race reporting in other countries.

The finish of the great classic, showing W. H. Carr "getting up" on 10-to-1 shot Parthia.
